An Appeal.

Nashville, Tenn., 21.—Four leading Mormon elders, to-day, presented a sworn petition to Governor Bates, asking that a reward be offered for the apprehension of those engaged in the Lewis County massacre on Sunday, August 10th. The petition sets forth that the prejudice against the Mormons of this State is based on ignorance. It denies the charges that Mormons have baptized women in a nude state; also that Mormon elders have ever tried to break up families or misled women. It further denies that the Mormons have ever attempted to introduce polygamy into Tennessee or any other State; sets forth that every elder at work in the southern mission is pledged by the most sacred vows of equality. Governor Bates will offer a reward asked to-morrow. It is believed the massacre in Lewis County will have the effect of discouraging Mormon operations in this State.

Casualty.

Shamokin, Pa., 21.—Fire broke out yesterday in Buckridge mine slope, 1,500 feet from the surface. The company bought the Greenback colliery adjoining, the workings of which are higher than those of Buckridge colliery. The intention was to bore a hole thirty-six feet in length from the Greenback to the Buckridge colliery, turn the creek into both collieries and by flooding them put out the fire. While the men were engaged in this work to-day gas poured in from the burning mine, and before they could escape seven men fell victims to the deadly gas. It is impossible to reach their bodies as both mines are full of gas and the fire is increasing. Eleven mules also burned.

Shamokin, Penn., 21.—The fire has not abated to-night, although two heavy pumps have been forcing water down the slope all day. Both the Buck Ridge and Greenback collieries are full of gas, and a number of men on the surface were overcome by the escaping gas. There is no possibility of the bodies being reached before to-morrow.

Louisville, Ky., 21.—William M. Collins, of this city, delegate to the Irish national league convention, recently held at Boston, in an interview relative to the proposition to trade the Irish-American vote for the advancement of Ireland's cause, as contained in the last dispatches, denied that such a proposition was entertained by the league, and that none of those participating in the alleged conference acted with authority. Mr. Collins said it was understood by the league that the Irish affairs are to be kept separate from American politics. This afternoon's dispatches represent Collins as being present at the secret meeting at Boston, whereas, he has been in Louisville since Sunday.

"Prickly Ash Bitters" is an unfailing specific for all complaints arising from a derangement of the functions of the liver. It purifies the blood and infuses new life into the invalid. Pains in the side, general uneasiness, loss of appetite, headache, bilious attacks, etc., etc., are sure indications that a corrective is needed. "Prickly Ash Bitters" is especially adapted for these complaints. It uses a torpid liver to action and restores it to a healthy condition.

Frogs vs. Pig Tails.

Paris, 21.—Following is an official return of the Franco-Chinese situation: Notwithstanding the successive repulses, granted China by France and the moderation of French officials having negotiations in charge, China has finally refused all satisfaction for the Lang Sen treachery, and received its plenipotentiaries in Shanghai. France is therefore compelled to present China with her last summons. Pateno, French minister to China, has been instructed to acquaint Taung Li Yamen of the vote of Parliament, and also with the fact that the indemnity has been definitely fixed at 80,000,000 francs, payable in ten years, and unless the command should be complied with within forty-eight hours, Admiral Courville would take the necessary steps forthwith to secure the reparation due France. The term of grace expired at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The French charge d'affaires was ordered to quit Pekin immediately, and join Pateno at Shanghai. Several of the finest herds in the State are now infected. One affected animal in a herd examined, to-day, is worth $1,500; some other animals in these herds are worth more than that, and two of the herds contain over forty head each. Dr. Salmon further says: "The State authorities have agreed to co-operate with the government in the extermination of the disease. Canavan is 22 years old and weighs 130 pounds; McHugh 21 and weighs 140. Canavan was seconded by Billy Madden, and McHugh by H. L. Powers, of London. Seven rounds were fought. Neither of the men showed much science. McHugh dealt several heavy left handers on Canavan's nose and jaws, receiving but little punishment in return. At the seventh round Canavan failed to come to time and jumped out of the ring. The referee then awarded the fight to the Scotchman. Canavan's friends demurred and claimed a draw, but the referee refused to change his award.

MORE BANK PRESIDENT.

Crookedness Feared About Warner as an Executor as Well as a Banker.

With Poisoning Introduced.

Albion, N. Y., 21.—In regard to the National bank it is ascertained that President A. S. Warner departed from Albion last Wednesday, taking with him the combination of the inner safe, and it is likely his absence will continue for some time. The condition of the bank cannot be ascertained until a thorough examination is made and the safe opened. Great excitement prevails, as it is feared the depositors will lose. It is learned that early in 1879, Roswell Burrows, one of the wealthiest men in western New York, died, leaving an estate estimated at $5,000,000 to $10,000,000. The executors were his wife, his son, Wm. R. Burrows, his son-in-law Alexander Stuart and A. S. Warner, and it is thought there has been considerable crookedness in the management of this estate on the part of Warner, and that a fear of exposure and prosecution caused him to leave home. Warner, since 1879, has had almost sole charge of the estate. He has speculated in stocks, and is supposed to have lost considerable money in Wall Street some time ago. Efforts were made in the court to oust him as the executor, and a legal decision to this effect was rendered Monday. Nothing is known as to how much of the estate is left.

Boston, 21.—A special to the Journal from Albion, N. Y., announced that R. S. Warner, of Albion, had disappeared, and that the National Bank, of which he is the president, was in consequence obliged to suspend. The announcement throws the first light upon a monstrous plot that for weeks has baffled Boston district attorney, grand jury and her smartest detectives. The conspiracy has succeeded to this extent. William R. Burrows, one of the heirs to a $5,000,000 estate living at 3813 Beacon street, in this city, was systematically planned until the diabolical work was discovered just in time to prolong but not to save his life. He is still alive, but it is living death. Suspensions were expressed of poisoning and upon investigation, arsenic was found in his stomach. The patient seemed better, but on May 7th the bad symptoms returned, and from that time it became evident the young man must die. The matter was brought to the district attorney's attention and laid before the grand jury, but insufficient evidence caused a postponement of the case from time to time. The sick man was taken in the latter part of May to 331 Beacon street, and later to the Hotel Oxford, and last week he was removed to New York. The motive for the poisoning is unknown. He is now suffering from paralysis so that he can move but one muscle of one arm, and death only can relieve him. By the will of Burrough's father his estate remains undivided for a time. The executors are A. S. Warner, of Albion, Wm. R. Burrows, the son, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Stewart, of Albion the widow. Warner is practically in sole control of the estate. William has been dissipated, and owing to his physical condition has done little more than dabble in business for a year or two past. In November, 1882, he made the acquaintance of William R. Caulkins, in Rochester. The following year they entered into business in this city. Burrows, with his wife and two children, went to live with Caulkins and in November, M. S. Burrows, with her children left her husband. Burrows remained at Caulkins' house, except on an occasional absence caused by dissipation. He left Caulkins February, 18th, and did not return till carried there quite sick from a house in Hudson street, April 7. While sick at Caulkins' house, the patient was attacked with vomiting spells and partial paralysis, and grew rapidly worse. About this time Warner, Roswell L. Burrows, of Buffalo, and Mrs. Stewart, came to Boston, and consulting physicians were called into the case. It is over a question of property that there is the greatest dispute. There is no doubt that Burrows places confidence in Caulkins, while he is decidedly out with Warner. In justice to Caulkins' family, it should be said no direct evidence has been found at any time against any one in their house. In a recent interview Caulkins said to a Journal reporter that he had not the slightest doubt that arsenic was administered to Burrows; and it was simply a question of how it was administered. General Coggs, who will act counsel for Caulkins, was present at the interview. He gave as the only theory he could offer as to the possible motive in the case, was that if the managing executor of the estate, who was a notorious speculator, should be called upon to account, he might be afraid to make such accounting, for which reason there might be a motive for putting the young man out of the way. Warner he said had only once seen William R. Burrows and could have had no opportunity to do the deed. William R. Burrows said to a reporter that Warner had never rendered an account of his trust, although repeatedly called upon. The breach between Warner and Williams was because the former would not allow the latter to draw money as freely as he desired. His first intention, when notified of the alleged poisoning, was first to save the man's life if possible; second, let justice be done wherever it strikes, then let the property be a third consideration.

Impending Rate War.

Chicago, 21.—Railway men here express no hope that a war on passenger rates, by the Trans Lines, between Chicago and New York, can be long averted, unless the pool is reorganized. It is rumored that Vice Commissioner Pearson is coaling west with that view, but the report could be traced to no definite source.

Each line in the pool accuses the other of paying commissions through shamship lines. Representatives here of the Vanderbilt lines assert that they maintained rates until forced, by the falling off in their passenger business, to grant the same concessions as were being made by other lines. The belief is generally expressed that rates will go very low.

The Morris Murder.

The murder of Aaron Morris near Ketchum, has resulted in the organization of a vigilance committee. It is said interesting times are awaiting a meeting of thirty characters there, unless their absence very shortly becomes profoundly conspicuous.

The belief grows stronger that the murderers of Aaron Morris are to be found in the persons of the two beasts created the day succeeding the assassination. They were saved from lynching only by the efforts of the sheriff who persuaded the vigilantes that they might possibly be innocent. About fifty feet from the fence at the scene of the murder, and in the tracks mentioned yesterday as having been discovered in the oat field, an order for $47.75 upon W. A. Stanton, of Atlanta, signed by W. S. Sterling of Bellevue and payable to J. Morris & Co., was picked up. This order was in Aaron Morris's pocket when he left Haley last Saturday.
